

The Office of Chief Counsel
Attorney Ambassadors

As you consider applying for an attorney position with the Office of Chief Counsel, you may seek clarification on the type of legal work involved in various divisions in either a field office or in the National Office. Over 200 of our attorneys have volunteered to serve as your resource in the event you need more information about an attorney position within our organization. If you need more information, you can contact one of our CC Ambassadors who graduated from your law school, who works in a specific city, or who works in an operating division that interests you.
